THUMBELLINA ZINNIA (1963 Gold Medal Award)

This new zinnia is one of the truest dwarfs we have ever seen. It grows 6 inches tall and will start flowering when only 4 inches high. Only the alyssums make a lower constantly-blooming border. Unmatched as a bedding plant, Thumbellina can be sold in flower and will stay in flower for the rest of the summer. Thumbellina's color range is scarlet, white, lavender, orange and yellow. There are 6,000 seed per ounce.
